FEATHERS IN THE WIND

Our granddaughter (Rose) has this uncanny knack for locating books for me to read at the library which I actually enjoy and don't send back unread.

The latest batch has really confused me with her choices. One concerns a stolen painting that the Nazis had somehow hidden from the world.

I like mysteries and will read almost any book put in my hand although Agatha Cristi is getting a little "old."

The book Rose gave me concerns those artists Hitler considered obscene. Naturally I wanted to check them out so I went to the bibliography to find the artists' names.

Frankly I don't really like some of the paintings these people did, but why Hitler and his henchman Goering would steal or supposedly "buy" them by falsely giving the owners a receipt way below the value is beyond me. Ironically these two kept over 100,000 pieces of artwork for themselves.

The other book Rose gave me to read dealt with the CIA and the author of Dr. Zhivago.

Ah how well I remembered the movie. It seemed as if everyone was humming or listening to "Lara's Theme" and people were wearing hats and coats that looked Russian.

Please note I said "Russian" not "Communist." You'll understand when you read the book.

I was in college and had taken a class on Russian history that focused on the 1917 revolution. I was sure that I could understand the movie. Wrong! The movie and the book are quite different.

The original Dr. Zhivago focuses more on the earlier revolution for one thing. It also speaks more about the Siberian prison camps and Stalin.

As to the book from the library I did not know how Boris Pasternak, the author, had been revered for his poetry and then reviled for his manuscript.

BBQ at Lake Iowa to Benefit Parks

Enjoy Lake Iowa and help support Iowa County parks on Sunday, Aug. 28 from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. at a benefit barbeque supper at the Lake Iowa Nature Center hosted by the Friends of Iowa County Conservation Foundation.

The fun will include make-and-take craft/ conservation activities for kids and grownups, a silent auction and supper. Tickets are on sale now. Go the Friends of Iowa County Conservation Foundation (FICCF) Facebook page and look for the link to buy your tickets on line. To learn more and stay in touch, "like" the FICCF Facebook page.

Julie Zuber, Carmen Grimm and Andrea Haldy serve on the FICCF board and are helping to plan the barbeque. They shared some of the things the group is working on and has helped to support. Give them a call for tickets if you are not online.

Formed initially in 2001 to fundraise for the development and construction of the Lake Iowa Nature Center, it remained active to support conservation/ education and recreation projects across Iowa County. It is a 501c.3 nonprofit with a working board of volunteers from all communities in the county. It has helped to:

- Fundraise to improve Lake Iowa and the Nature Center.
- Provided for educational displays at the Lake Iowa Nature Center.
- Stocked fish at Gateway Park in Marengo.
- Helped bring running water to the scout camping area at Lake Iowa Park in partnership with Boy Scouts and Iowa County Conservation.
- Provided supplies for educational school field trips, summer day camps and camper take home kits.

- Paid for supplies and speaker fees for many, varied Iowa County Conservation school outreach programs and public programs/events.

If you've not gone to Lake Iowa in recent years now is a good time to visit. Bring your fishing pole and swimsuit too. Hey there's a beach with swimming open to the public through Labor Day from sunrise to sunset. The beach has restroom and water on site.

Lake Iowa Park has picnic areas and camping with 120 "rocked pads" for "RV" camping with electricity, shower houses and a sanitary dump station. Water is available from hydrants in the camping area and at the beach. There are two more rustic, (no electricity) camping areas within a short walk of the shower house. It's all first come, first serve camping.

The 83-acre lake has large mouth bass, red ear sunfish, crappie, perch and catfish. There is a boat ramp with a parking area and a fish cleaning station and yes, the fishing has been pretty good this summer. This a no-wake/no-wave lake, however there is no engine restriction. Yes, you can rent a boat with a trolling motor or a kayak by contacting the campground hosts or the Iowa Lake park ranger.

There are several picnic shelters at Lake Iowa for group picnics. These can be reserved in advance for $25. There are other group rental options available too at the Lake Iowa Nature Center for a party/ event at Lake Iowa.

Did you know you can rent a cabin there? There

I also did not know that he had been awarded a Nobel Prize in the 1950's, but was forced to refuse it because the government (under Khrushchev) felt the book was contrary to the doctrine they espoused.

He would write a letter rejecting the prize because he would have had to travel to Sweden to accept it and then been banned from returning back to his beloved Russia.

Years later one of his sons would accept the prize, but getting the manuscript out and to the masses is another part of the book.

Just for your information, Dr. Zhivago was first put into book form NOT in Russian. It might surprise you to learn what language it was translated into and how it was distributed.

Both books carry the one theme that always angers me - CENSORSHIP.

I dislike it when any individual feels that they know better then another what is or is not best for another. I suppose I'm guilty of this myself because of my distaste of weapons and outright lies.

However when it comes to literature and art I have seen the good and bad. I choose to let an indivividual choose, even if I disagree.

B.S.H

Note: since Barbara won't tell you, I will. Dr. Zhivago was first published in Italy in 1957

"Leaving Iowa" at the Amana PAC Sept. 23-24

The critically-acclaimed play, "Leaving Iowa," by Tim Clue and Spike Manton will be at the Amana Performing Arts Center, September 23 – 24.

TKM Theatrical Productions is proud to present this hilarious, family-friendly comedy. It's a toast to the idealism and character of parents from the "greatest generation, and a little roast of their dedication to the family road trip," Tom Milligan, TKM, tells us,

"It was nominated Best New Play in the Country by the Detroit Free Press and one of SoCal Theater's 10 Most Memorable Moments of the year after its run at the Laguna Playhouse, stating the play included 'the most frighteningly realistic depiction of a family summer road trip' the reviewer had ever seen," he added.

A show suitable for ages 10 to 110, "Leaving Iowa" is a postcard to anyone who has ever found themselves driving alone on a road revisiting fond memories of their youth. "Leaving Iowa" has played to packed audiences and received great reviews in hundreds of theaters across the US, a release from TKM noted. They included these quotes from reviews of the show:

"You don't have to be the child of a small-town Iowa couple living in the midst of hog farms and corn fields to identify with everything about the SIMULTANEOUSLY HILARIOUS AND TOUCHING 'LEAVING IOWA." ~ Chicago Sun Times

"Adventures in Iowa are like steep hills – pretty hard to come by" Also, hard to come by are humorous plays about the Midwest that don't reduce Midwesterners to chirpy, folksy caricatures. Leaving Iowa achieves just this with its smart, funny and at time's poignant look at what it meant to grow up in, and ultimately leave, small-town Iowa." ~ -MADISON ISTHMUS

TKM Theatrical Productions, a professional theatrical production company, is beginning its 10th season serving Iowa communities. Co-founders Tom Milligan and Deb Kennedy, combine their extensive theater background in creating affordable entertainment with mainstage productions, theater for young audiences, summer youth theater camps, and various life enrichment projects to numerous rural Iowa communities.

Milligan tells us, "Deb and I chose this play because it's a great story with a lot of heart, that also has moments that are side-splitting funny! We are very excited to be able to work with the wonderful cast of actors, and to be able to bring this very relatable story to Amana." Tickets $20. Available at the door, OR call 319-899-3799 for reservations. The Amana Performing Arts Center is located just west of the Amana RV Park at 38 38th Ave. Amana.

LEAVING IOWA is produced by special arrangement with THE DRAMATIC PUBLISHING COMPANY, INC. of Woodstock, Illinois.

MY AMANA EXPERIENCE

This week, I took a field trip over to The Hotel Millwright restaurant to meet the new chef. His name is Oscar Jackson III, and he hails from Albany, Georgia. Although he's worked in too many cities to name them all, here are a few – Atlanta, GA; Miami, FL; Orlando, FL; Hilton Head, NC; Savannah, GA; and now Amana, IA.

Chef Jackson started working in the restaurant business at age 14 as a dishwasher and busboy at The Waffle House, and learned from everything he could from the kitchen staff. As a teen, he loved to watch Julia Child's and Justin Wilson's cooking shows on PBS, and still counts them among his gastronomic influences today.

When Chef Jackson had learned as much as he could from his co-workers at The Waffle House, he turned his eye toward climbing the culinary ladder. From 2003-2005, he attended The Art Institute of Atlanta, graduating from their Culinary Arts/Chef Training program. At age 26, Chef Jackson became The Chef at the 12 Hotel Exchange in Atlanta. Other notable restaurants on Chef's resume are Four Seasons Atlanta, Johnny Carino's, and Alligator Soul.

Much like his warm personality, Chef Jackson's approach to cooking is to satisfy both the body and the soul. He likes to use classic ingredients like pork chops or short ribs, and add a special touch or an unexpected (but never unwelcome) flavor to enhance the dish. His aim is to give you all the comfort food with a little dash of inspiration. When I asked what dish or meal is his current favorite to cook, he said it is braised short ribs with a cherry reduction, mashed potatoes, and greens. He told me, "You will never leave hungry." I believe him.

I seem to remember I have an anniversary coming up. I bet I know where I'll spend it.

Until next time, all my best,
Amy Petta
